Sydspissen, Telegrafbukta and Folkeparken - 4,5 km

The shore route around the southern tip of Tromsøya island provides beautiful views over the sound and Malangen and Kvaløya mountains. Along the way are remnants of a prison camp from World War II. Telegrafbukta Bay is the city's most visited outdoor recreation area with space for barbecues, play, exercise and swimming. At Kvitnesgården and Mortengården are old buildings originally from elsewhere in Troms. In Folkeparken you can cross the road to lush forest with many paths. Have a good trip!

To Sydspissen: Bus 33 from the Centre or 34 from Giæverbukta

At Lanes, Telegrafbukta Bay and Tromsø Museum

From the HC-spot in Lanesbukta to Telegrafbukta there is a path suited for wheelchairs

Trail description

Start from the bus stop or the parking at Lanes. The path hugs the shore of the southern tip of the Telegrafbukta bay with benches and tables along the way. In Telegrafbukta Bay are barbecue areas and many rest places. It is also possible to get to Telegrafbukta Bay to Kvitnesgården by path via the parking lot in Telegrafbukta Bay. Folkeparken offers narrow and wide trails. It is possible to return via the lit path rather than the path in to the upper part of Folkeparken. Return via Telegrafbukta Bay. In the summer on Sundays there is a small café in Kvitnesgården and the Tromsø Museum café is open year round.
